I. OBLIGATIONS/CONDITIONS

- As the satellite received signal becomes stronger, a satellite dish owner will be requested to revert to a smaller dish.
- Regular inspections shall be conducted to ensure compliance with the satellite dish policy. Failure to comply may result in revoking of the license and confiscation of the dish.
- This permission does not absolve a satellite dish owner, particularly commercial-tourism establishments, from observing any copyright obligations that may be involved in the reception of programs through the satellite dish.
- A licence is required under the Broadcasting and Telecommunication Act, 2000 (Act 2 of 2000) and Licences Act 2010 (Act 23 of 2010) in order to possess, install and operate a satellite dish whether assembled or otherwise; specifically as per the Licences (Broadcasting and Telecommunication) (Amendment) Regulations, 2014.
- An applicant must apply for a license at the Seychelles Licensing Authority before the Department of Information Communications Technology grants authorization for the importation and/or installation of the satellite dish.

J. NOTES

- An applicant requesting for installation of a satellite dish for personal/residential use is not required to apply for a licence at the Seychelles Licensing Authority.
- The Department may request additional information not requested in this form for further processing of the application.

I hereby state that all information provided above is true to the best of my knowledge and I will abide to all the relevant procedures, obligations and conditions pertaining to the importation and installation of satellite dish.
